Work Offered

an architectural and interior design company that works on creating various functional spaces and buildings, starting from a concept and ending with a whole realization of the chosen models.

The aspects of work are divided into three essential steps. The first one is the design which consists in transforming the client's idea or concept into a real model that satisfies their requirements. In the second phase, the trainee will be asked to prepare detailed drawings using different technologies such as AutoCAD, Revit Architecture and 3ds Max. A good mastery of these softwares is also required. Once the documentation phase is done, construction documents should be prepared: various instructions and technical specifications are given to construction experts. The trainee should also supervise the construction in order to make sure that the buildings are built according to plans. In addition, he/she should deal with different problems that may exist, determine risks and maintain a safety program.
